

Another one bites the Dust

The Skhodnya Scout Centre near Moscow has now been sold

This wonderful amenity has been run by the Scouts of Khimky for a number of years. It enabled the Leaders to open up the facilities for school children during the weekdays as well as weekends.

The local authorities put the site up for sale and whilst this was going through much of the equipment, canoes and sailing boats got lost. Mike Stanley was a key supporter of this site and spent many happy years there.
